

Pat is incredible. She's been a therapist for much of her career, but has a passion for academic coaching and working with students, and has transitioned to the field full time. She has a TON of energy, a playful feel, has raised her own kids, and she's great at keeping teens focused and accountable.